OT AND HAND PRINTS AT BOTTOM OF VANISHING GOOSE LAKE
RECALL LEGEND OF BEAUTIFUL PRINCESS AND HER RASH DEED

She was a beautiful princess, living in a castle near the Vanishing Goose Lake. One day, she decided to venture into the woods near the lake to enjoy the beauty of nature. While exploring, she came across a trail that led deeper into the woods. Curious, she followed the trail and discovered a hidden cave.

Inside the cave, she found a handprint that had been inscribed with a poem. The poem spoke of a princess who once lived there, her beauty causing the heartache of many. It was said that the princess was cursed, and whoever found the handprint would be granted a wish.

The princess returned to her castle, where she spent the night contemplating. The next morning, she decided to test the curse. She placed her hand in the same position as the handprint and closed her eyes tightly. Suddenly, a gust of wind blew through the castle, and the princess was lifted off her feet and flown away, vanishing into the sky.

The handprint with the poem disappeared as well, leaving behind only the memory of the princess's beauty and the curse that surrounded her.
